FirstPower Group LLC has roots to a proud history of air compressor design improvement and manufacturing innovation. The original company, J.W. Harley Inc. was established in 1979 and provided the electric power industry with substation products and upgrade services. In 1999, J.W. Harley Inc. became part of the General Electric Company. It became known as the GE Harley Service Center and was part of GE Energy Services. In 2007, industry veterans Jack Harley and Frank Ricard, Manager of Engineering & Quality for GE Harley Service Center, took ownership of the compressor and circuit breaker segments of the business and FirstPower Group LLC was born. FirstPower Group LLC is applying years of experience, working with compressors and high voltage circuit breakers, to produce cost-saving solutions to common problems with the operation of high voltage circuit breakers and associated components. FirstPower Group LLC is a Distributor of Becker and Kaser compressors and the Manufacturer of the CircuitAir 210 compressor.
